New York Stock Market

New York, January 31.—Acute weak-ness of United States Steel overshadowed all other features of the stock market to-day. The price fell 4 1-4 points, borne down by an outpeuring of stock which smother all attempts to support it. Union Pacific's showing was little better, that stock losing 3 3-8. The collapse of these two leaders influenced the market to a pronounced degree. Losses were general among both railroad and industrial stocks. The total transactions for the day were 220,000 shares, the largest in several weaks. Transsections in United States Steel were 232,000 shares.

the largest in several weeks. Transsections in United States Steel were 2020,000 shares.

There was no well defined, explanation of the selling moviment, although it was apparently due largely to professional operations. The character of the quarterly report of the United States Steel Corporation was, of course, taken into consideration, but it was generally agreed that the report was as favorable as had been expected. London sold United States Steel heavily, apparently on account of its interpretation of the report.

In some qualities the pressure was attributed to "inside selling," in others to the belief that the permanency of the dividend rate on United States Steel had been called into question. That stock touched 59-3-4, the lowest price of several months, as compared with the high price Saturday of 65-7-8. The preferred fell to 199-3-4.

Lack of effective support for the market was so pronounced as to discourage built traders. The case with which stocks were depressed in the morning on a comparatively small amount of trading encouraged the Williamsburg. Vs., January 31.—The introduction in the House of Delegates yesterday by Delegate H. U. Stephenson, of a bill allowing the people of Williamsburg to vote on the question of the establishment of a dispensary for the sale of intoxicating liquors came as a complete surprise to many citizens here, who know nothing of the movement at this time, although it was expected. A special meeting of the City Council was held Monday morning, at which time that oody manimously adopted a resolution, call-
